THE UNFOLDING

YOGA

Morning Practice
To Transcend the Static

We will practice daily before brunch (8:30am for ca. 90min), always fluid in motion, anchoring into deep rhythmic breathing. A well-rounded experience to start the day!

Built upon Katonah Yoga and liberating movement, the yoga classes will awaken and elevate your energy progressively throughout the five days of the Retreat.

DEEP MIND

Afternoon Practice
To Cultivate Inner Radiance

By the end of the day (5:30pm for ca. 60min), the focus is laid on the internal practices and Restorative Yoga, exploring through sensory impulses and guided meditations.

The inward journey will help us cultivate lightness and clarity. The Moroccan light and salty air also naturally nourish on a cellular level.

WHY DREAMWAVE?

After a successful retreat in 2025, I am very inspired to bring Dreamwave again.

Dreamwave reflects the journey we will take by moving through body and mind, stimulating deep currents of energy. In a world of constant stimulation, this retreat setting offers a space to unplug and dive into the depths of the Self.

Movements, visuals and the breathing will effortlessly converge to an energetic tide that realigns, and invites us to move through life with embodied presence and fluency.

You will get the chance to wash away any stress in the Atlantic ocean. Throughout the day there will be plenty of free time to chill or explore the surroundings. At night, we hang out, have long conversations or just stargaze...

OUR STAY

Dancing The Waves Morocco

We will stay in the pristine bay of Tafedna, 50km south of Essaouira, in a peaceful, family-run setting where you can ground and connect with nature. My friend Lisa and her husband Fayçal are our welcoming hosts at Dancing The Waves Morocco.

Villa Aljana offers four spacious rooms with private bathrooms, a communal living and dining area, and a lounge terrace. Two garden bungalows feature private pergolas and rooftop sea views, while the Yoga Shala is housed in a spacious standalone bungalow.

A short 8-minute walk leads to a vast, untouched beach, with a small fishing village at the far end, about 30 minutes away on foot.

Fresh Moroccan meals, including a wholesome brunch and hearty dinner, are lovingly prepared by Keltoum and her sisters, Khadija and Rokaia. Ingredients are sourced from local farmers, featuring fresh produce, fish, meat, olive oil, and eggs. Vegetarian options are available, along with fresh fruits, almonds, and dates throughout the day. Any food intolerances will be taken into account.
